Who We Are: The Arts Marketing Partnership is a social enterprise venture of Center for the Arts: Creativity, Experience, Empowerment (a national non profit organization). It is our mission to raise awareness of the impact of the arts and generate an earned income for our national projects and exhibits in communities across the United States.

It is our vision that the arts community and arts friendly businesses by virtue of doing business with us can become our pARTner helping to raise awareness of the impact of the arts. Through this partnership the arts community can directly benefit the communities across the U.S. while doing business as usual.
